Work Experience

Interactive Web Designer

June 2008 - Present

*NetPlus Marketing | Conshohocken, PA
Advertising and SEO Services*

My main tasks include programming and animating banners, building flash applications and graphic design. This job began as part of the co-op experience at Drexel but developed into a position with the company after the co-op ended. I work closely with graphic designers and web programmers to complete most projects.

Web Developer / Designer

September 2008 - June 2009

Drexel University | Philadelphia, PA

This was a group project consisting of six members. It is a 3D game that uses Wii technology to implement head-tracking and Wiimote control in a multiplayer flash environment. It was programmed with Actionscript 3 and uses Papervision3D's libraries to render its effects.

Matt Spitko

Musician

This project was interesting because he is highly active on several social media outlets so we really wanted to boast and incorporate that aspect. In order to utilize those components I came up with this solution –
